

Mr. McRae moved that a message be sent to the Senate, proposing to postpone said election until Monday next, 12 o'clock; which was decided by the Chair to be out of order.

The message from the Senate was then concurred in, and the Senate informed thereof by message.

Received from the Senate a message, informing that Messrs. William P. Williams and Dobson form their branch of the committee to superintend the election of Secretary of State.

Ordered, That Messrs. Mendenhall and Avery form our branch of said committee.

Thereupon, the House proceeded to vote as follows, viz:
